1. INTRODUCTION:

Assam is a melting pot of cultures; ethnically diverse cultures that have contributed to the formation of a society and where the traditions of each culture have continued to flourish even as assimilation has taken place at many levels. The tradition of fabricating items from available resources like bamboo, cane, wood, water hyacinth, jute, banana sheath, decorative or utilitarian, in a traditional way as a trade, as part of domestic work or as a hobby has continued among these small ethnic groups and among all communities living in the State. Over the years, handicrafts produced in Assam, have gained traction all over the world for their simplicity and elegance. The famous colorful Assamese Zapi (headgear), bell and brass metal works, traditional Assamese jewellery, masks (mukha) used in plays are testimony to the quality of craftsmanship available in Assam.

Handicraft production is an important segment of the de-centralized/unorganized sector. It is mainly rural based. Originally, handicraft production was as a part time activity in the rural areas. It has now transformed into a flourishing economic activity due to higher market demand with great potential for further growth.

The Handicraft sector has immense potential for generating livelihood/ employment as it can absorb new entrants in the craft-making activity over and above sustaining the existing set of artisans.

The handicraft sector is labour intensive and if proper market linkages are provided and the scale of local handicraft business expands, it is possible that the migration of people from rural areas to the urban areas may stand reduced.

This sector has however suffered due to its unorganized nature along with additional constraints like lack of education, capital, and poor exposure to new technologies, absence of market intelligence, poor institutional framework and less than desired level of quality.

Issues constraining the growth of the handicraft sector in Assam are broadly the following:

- (1) Old production techniques leading to higher cost and resultant compromise in quality
- (2) Production Schedules not in synchronization with orders
- (3) Product design and development not based on the market requirement
- (4) Non-Availability of raw material of proper quality, standard and specifications
- (5) Non-Standardization in product pricing
- (6) Lack of convergence with other government Departments/ Schemes
- (7) Lack of capital (absence of access to credit especially for working capital requirements)

- (8) Absence of adequate handicraft marketing outlets for direct marketing
- (9) Inadequate access to urban markets

2. PREAMBLE:

The State recognizes the importance of Handicraft Industries/ Enterprises/ Related Industries in providing self-employment opportunities to rural artisans, particularly to women and the weaker sections of society. The state also acknowledges the hindrances to the growth of the sector including lack of infrastructure, lack of financial support and lack of entrepreneurship and it is in this context that the Handicraft Policy of Assam is being enunciated.

3. DEFINITION OF HANDICRAFTS:

These are produced without restriction in terms of quantity and using raw materials from sustainable resources. The special nature of artisanal products derives from their distinctive features, which can be utilitarian, aesthetic, artistic, creative, culturally attached, decorative, functional, traditional, religiously and socially symbolic and significant.”*
